Choose the best option for you:

1 - Alentejo – Full-Day tour

Alentejo is one of the most famous wine regions in Portugal. Although its wines are special, this region has a lot more to offer, to be seen and to be tasted.

Plains that extend as far as your eyes can see emerge the visitors and lead them into a breath-taking experience. Alentejo, as the name gives away, is considered to be “beyond” (Alen) “Tagus river” (Tejo) and its richness comes from the ancient heritage that we can know feel all over the region; like it happens in the city of Évora, which is UNESCO World Heritage site since 1986.

2 - Lisbon – Full-Day tour

Lisbon wine region is named after Portugal’s capital city. Although the city is widely known, its wines are a pleasant and fresh surprise as they are a secret waiting to be discovered!

This region is full of contrasts: modern and old, urban and rural, ocean (the Atlantic) and hills (Serra de Montejunto).
